

Software Tools For Success

Simplex_{NG}, a Nakoma Group company, develops robust software tools that automate and simplify IT tasks in the areas of application design, development, and platform management. These tools deliver solutions that enable IT organizations to maximize their investments in personnel, processes, applications, and platforms.

Simplex_{NG} Products

ServerInsight™ allows companies to analyze data centers for opportunities to reduce complexity through consolidating and automating IT processes. There is no requirement to modify servers and no technology to install in the production environment.

Transport for .NET™ enables customers to easily embrace the .NET and Windows infrastructure by creating radically simplified computing environments for both applications and operating platforms.

Four Key Benefits To Using Simplex_{NG} Tools

1. Developers can rapidly design and develop new applications using a practical, model-driven approach.
2. Development teams can easily assimilate the structure and design of existing applications so they can be leveraged for new architectures.
3. Opportunity areas can be more quickly identified through technology and methodology when migrating to non-proprietary platforms.
4. The processes of analysis and audit can be automated in key areas such as server deployment, change control management, and configuration management.

"Simplex's platform analysis allowed us to ensure rapid migration without compromising performance and helped us to shave weeks off of our project by automatically collecting the information and formatting it in an analytic framework specifically for consolidation and migration projects."
