

About the Author

Paul hasn't changed much since the picture on the cover was taken. He still loves fishing, jokes, and football. He has a degree in Philosophy and currently lives in Denver, Colorado.

This book will make everyone a better fisherman, but it caters to the angler who still enjoys Saturday morning cartoons and raising earthworms in the backyard.

"I kept wishing that he had written the book 50 years ago so the kid in me could have learned from this master fisherman."

*Jim Fay
Co-Author of Parenting with Love and Logic*
